And the Trial of Dr. Leon Begun In

The trial of Dr. Edward Leon, charged with the murder of "a certain male child" of Miss Estelle E. Beach on the 31st of October last, as the result of an abortion alleged to have been performed on Miss Beach two days previously by Leon, was resumed before Judge Cole in Criminal Court No. 2 this morning, the court room being filled by an even larger throng than was the case yesterday. With but ten men in the jury box, David K. Meredith, Fenton Brewer, Wm. Wanstall, John M. Birckhead, Wm. W. Riley, Wm. H. Brinkley, Henry S. Thrift, John M. McClintock, W. S. B. Henry and Henry Naylor, jr., obtained from the regular panel yesterday, with eight peremptory challenges remaining to the defense and five to the government, the work of completing the jury from the forty extra talesmen ed yesterday was begun immediately after the opening of the court. Mr. James S. Davis, the first of the forty talesmen, was declared competent, Mr. Joseph Fowler was declared incompetent because of a formed opinion, and the box was then filled by the selection of Mr.

James T. Harrison. The district attorney James T. Harrison. The district attorney thereupon exercised his first challenge, excusing Mr. Henry S. Thrift. Mr. W. S. Richardson took Mr. Thrift's place, when the defense challenged Mr. David K. Meredith. Mr. Cyrus Spottswood, the first colored man drawn, was then declared competent, and Mr. Birney declared himself to be satisfied with the jury. The defense, however, challenged Mr. Henry Naylor, fr., and, although the next talesman, Mr. John Slick, stated that he had formed an opinion, he explained that it would yield to evi-

Mr. Geo. W. King was declared competent, but was at once challenged by the defense and Mr. James A. Shaw, colored, was then selected. Again the prosecution expressed their satisfaction with the twelves men in the box, but the defense challenged Mr. Tames S. Davis, because of an important business engagement. Mr. Wm. T. Burdine was declared incompetent because of a fixed opinion, and Mr. Wm. Mercer was accepted. That still left a vacancy in the box. Mr. Thad. Brashears was declared incompetent, as was Mr. Peter M. Jones, colored, and Mr. Frank Dieudonne had conscientious scruples against capital punishment. The box was then filled by the selection of Mr. Spencer Johnson, when Mr. Birney challenged Mr. Mercer. Another talesman, Mr. Frank Haines, was excused because of a prejudice against capital punishment, and Mr. John T. Fowler was accepted. The defense thereupon challenged Mr. Richardson, and when Mr. However, strenuous objection was made to bringing into this country. Andrew Archer was found to be competent, and told to stand aside, while Mr. Richard on the country under contract, it was a street.

Mr. Thad. Brashears was instructors, with such safeguards and restrictions as will proserve the spirit of existing laws."

Objection was raised to the latter clause of the resolution on the ground that an agreement was virtually a contract. This was admitted, but it was claimed that even a contract made to secure expert services of experts, who would act as instructor but the defense exhausted their last challenge by excusing him. Mr. Arthur W. Fairfax was found to be competent, and told to stand aside, while Mr. Richard Bruce, colored, was examined. Mr. Bruce was declared to be competent, but was challenged by the district attorney. Mr. W. S. Brown was also found to be qualified, but was permitted to stand aside while Mr. Samuel Tinney, colored, was examined. Mr. Tinney declared he would not hang anybody, and was excused.

The Jury Complete.

The selection of Mr. George W. Hurley again filled the box, and, the district attorney declaring that he was satisfied with the twelve men, and the defense having exhausted their twenty challenges, the following the following that the world that can teach us in America anything.

twelve men, and the defense having ex-hausted their twenty challenges, the following were sworn as the jury: Fenton Brewer, Wm. Wanstall, John M. Birckhead, Wm. H. Brinkley, W. S. B. Henry, James T. Harrison, Cyrus Spottswood (colored), Richard Chism, James A. Shaw (colored), Spencer Johnson, John T. Fowler and Geo. W. Hurley. Mr. Cason, for the defense, then presented

Mr. Cason, for the defense, then presented an affidavit of the prisoner, asking that fifteen witnesses be summoned on his behalf at the expense of the government.

District Attorney Birney stated that the affidavit failed to state who or where the desired witnesses were, and also failed to show the materiality of their evidence.

Mr. Cook explained that to do so would be to play into the hands of the propertition. to play into the hands of the prosecution, and that the law did not require it. He stated, however, that he would not press the matter now, and it was passed over for

The court then (at 12:15) took a recess until 1 o'clock. The First Witness Upon the opening of the court after re-cess, Mr. Lewin, the district attorney's assistant, made the opening address to the jury, explaining the nature of the charge. The defense reserved their opening to the first witness, Dr. Raymond T. Holden, who stated that he was called to attend Miss Beach early on the morning of the 31st of October last at her father's residence, 1133 6th street southwest. He found her in bed, suffering great pain, from the effects of a recently performed operation of abortion. The child had not been delivered, and witness prescribed the usual remedies. A few hours later a male child was born. Everything possible was done for the child, but it lived but six hours. The primary cause of its death was premature birth.

"Doctor," inquired the district attorney, "what is the easiest method of procuring an abortion?"

"what is the easiest method of procuring an abortion?"

Mr. Cook objected, stating that there was no averment respecting the ease or difficulty of obtaining the alleged abortion. Besides, it was not shown that the witness was expert in the performance of abortion. The question at issue was, did the defendant perform the operation?

Mr. Birney then withdrew the question, and asked the witness what was the cause of the premature birth of the child, and the witness replied that in his opinion it resulted from a puncture of certain organs by a sharp instrument.

No action was taken, but the remarks of Mr. Tucker of Philadelphia, who, with other members of the board, inspected this morning the underground street railway system on U street, were listened to with close attention, and his motion thanking the representatives of the system for this "educational" visit was promptly adopted. Mr. Tucker stated that a number of the members of the board had accepted the invitation from Mr. Albert G. Wheeler to inspect the underground electric railway system in operation on U street, and had gone over the road this morning. The visit, he said, had opened the eyes of all to the practicability of applying in our cities a system of underground wires which would take the place of the objectionable and harassing overhead wires that do so much to disfigure our cities and interfere with the operations of the fire department.

"Also destroys life," interjected Mr. G. Waldo Smith of New York, and Mr. Tucker at once accepted the suggestion. He moved members of the board had accepted the in-

The chair appointed a committee consist ing of Messrs, Lane, Field, Raymond, Smith Francis, Logan and Goodale to have charge of matters relating to the improvement in consular service. The special committee appointed to consider the various resolution relating to immigration through Mr. Stone of Chicago reported the following resolution:

"That the National Board of Trade hereby recommends the strict enforcement of however, challenged and an opinion, he explained that it would yield to evidence. He was declared competent, but was at once challenged by the defense, and Mr. James A. Shaw, colored, was then selected. Mr. Forward said that these men were objected to only when under contract.

It was argued that a contract made no difference, except that it was instrumental in getting the benefit of the experience and skill of men who made possible the establishment of manufactures and the employment of the working classes.

Fear of Contract Labor.

The fear was expressed that the privilege was said that this country had an abund ance of such men. In other words, there was no necessity to go to Europe to make contracts for service. The men would come here.

Substitutes were offered and various amendments were proposed to get rid of the "agreement" clause of the report. However, the resolution reported from the committee and given above was finally adopted by a vote of 34 to 11.

This action disposed of one of the most important questions that has come before the board at the present session.

A number of amendments to the interstate commerce law were presented in the report of a committee of which Mr. H. F. Donsman is chairman. The report states that while thoroughly believing in the principles underlying the interstate commerce ciples underlying the interstate commerce law, and that its vigorous enforcement would be equally conductive to good business fact that this law, dealing with a great sub-ject in a new way, is purely tentative, and must therefore be strengthened and improv-ed as time and trial show the need and point out the way"; therefore the following amendments are recommended: Making the corporation itself indictable and subject to exemplary fines for all violations of the law by its officers or agents; giving to the find-ings of the commission the validity of the report of a master in chancery; to enable the commission to compel the attendance report of a master in chancery; to enable the commission to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of testimony in all cases heard by them, or investigations made by them on their own motion; repealing that feature of the law which involves imprisonment as a punishment for its violation; such a definition of the terms of the law as may be necessary to bring within its provisions and restrictions. to bring within its provisions and restric-tions all common carriers engaged in inter-state commerce; to enforce upon common carriers a strict accountability to the owner mon carriers for transportation, by the im-posing of a proper demurrage charge for delay beyond a reasonable time in the transportation of such property; that the

Smith of Toledo, Smith of New York and Ford of Baltimore, was appointed to call at the White House and arrange a time when the board can pay their respects to the President.

Mr. Elias S. A. de Lenia of New York presented a resolution urging the vital importance of the development of the merchant marine and that Congress be urged to adopt the proper measures to that end. This resolution represented the column of the character of the resolution, said that it reminded him of the sign "No religion here," which a man living in Ireland placed over the door of his house at a time of religious hostility so that the occupant could not be involved in the quarrel. On this ground he supported the resolution and amid a general burst of laughter the resolution was adopted.
